From the Louisville Convier-Sournel we take the following notice: "Miss Genevieve Rogers appeared here at Liberty hall again last night in the large Manual Maller of Ma nounce her thoroughly excellent. She is scarcely nineteen years of age, and to the ad-vantage of youthfulness adds the charms of an attractive personal appearance, a winsome deportment, eyes that melt and glow, and a naivete that invests her enactment with an artlessness as witching as her emotional power is effective. The play which urnishes the frame-work of her special portraiture is founded upon Whittier's poem, without being a dramatization in any sense The first act witnessed a husking bee, introducing "Maud" as a country girl who dis-ports with her rural friends in the enjoyment of the entertainment of which the "Judge" is the host. The second act discovers "Maud as the bride of the "Judge." She is made inhappy by the treatment she receives from her husband's sister, who succeeds in bringing down the curtain on a wife fleeing from home out into the cold wife fleeing from home out into the completely down the curtain on a heart-broken "Maud's" hope for a reconciliation, but the fourth and last calls check upon her sorrows, leaving her in the arms of her husband, and humbling the "proud sister" to the very dust in repentance, and the closing figure of each act received its due encore. MEMPHIS CONFERENCE.

Examination of the Elders, and Expulsion of a Minister Reports upon Educational Institutions-The American Bible Society-Public Worship To-Day.

Promptly at nine o'clock vesterday morning Bishop Pierce called the members to order, and Rev. P. T. Scruggs began the The calling of the roll was dispensed with out several members, clerical and lay, were reported present for the first time. After the reading and approval of the jour al of yesterday, the conference proceeded with the examination of the characters of the elders, one by one, all having to pass each vear through this searching review.

M. D. Robinson, D. M. K. Collins, R. S. Swift, J. E. Beck, H. B. Covington and Jeremiah Moss were continued on the supernumery list, their health being insufficient for efective work as pastors.
R. V. Taylor, S. C. Ellis, and T. P. Holman, who were supernumerary last year, placed on the effective list. M. Maior, C. C. Glover, T. J. Neely, R. H. Browne, Benj. Peeples, T. P. Davidson, J. C. Crews and D. C. Wells, being worn out by age, on application, were continued on the ranuated list. The committee of trial in the case of W.

W. Scott made their report, by which he is expelled from the church for gross immorality—this committee, in place of the conference, having, by the law, full and entire jurisdiction and their action being final, unless there should be an appeal to the general conference; but in this case there was no appeal. Leland The committee of investigation, through birds. . L. Beard, chairman, in the case of W. A. Cook, reported that they found there was no need of an investigation, because when Bowles, Tucker, Bogardus, Hunt, the accused and the accuser were brought to-it being simply a misunderstanding between two good men. Thereupon, the character of W. A. Cook was passed. Rev. Dr. Winfield made an eloquent and oul-stirring address to the conference, and in closing appealed to the members for a contribution of one dollar each to the Arkansas female college. A collection was taken, mounting to nearly one hundred dollars.

Rev. Mr. Daniel, of the First Presbyterian church, was introduced by the bishop, and welcomed to a seat within the bar. Rev. Dr. Young, secretary of Vanderbilt university, was introduced, and made a brief statement in reference to the affairs of the niversity, which is in a prosperous condition The report of the committee on the bible cause was presented and discussed at length, Rev. Messrs. Rosebrough, Swett, Johnson Thomas, Scruggs, Bolling, Mahon, Moss and Boswell, and Judge Brown, taking part in the discussion. That part of the report requiring collections to be made in every pastoral charge, and to be reported at conference with other collections—the figures to be introduced in the tables of church statistics-was stricken out. The report as adopted ommends very highly the bible work, and oledges assistance to the American bible society and the Memphis bible society.

The annual report of the Memphis conference female institute, at Jackson, an old and flourishing school of the church, was pre BREISHEBA SPRINGS, GRUNDY COUNTY, TENN., / November 9, 1876. I see in the Nashville German paper, as well as the American, a call on me to state for tickets is so great there is da supply will give out long before the demand is satisfied. Every consideration, therefore, what I know concerning the titles of the Swiss colony in Grundy county, Tennessee. In reprompts you to buy your tickets at once. ply I desire to make the following statement: Six or seven years ago the Swiss settlers re-ceived of Mr. Peter Staub, consular agent of Switzerland, residing at Knoxville, a clear warrantee title to the one hundred acre lots they bought of him, paying the money for the same to him, the trustee of the colony. Finding that there was great difficulty locating the real owners of the land, Mr. Staub may have prudently retarded payment until he was convinced who was the real owner. It is proven beyond a shadow of doubt that a part of the settlement has been made on a wrong tract. Instead of having Cagle, it was made on the Greenwood-Payne tract, belonging to the M'Ewen estate, of which Mr. Joseph M. Stones is the heir. Some time ago I wrote to Mr. Staub on this sub-ject, and I do not doubt that he is most willing to make a satisfactory settlement with the real owners of the land. I am fully satisfied that the title of the M'Ewen estate i perfect, as the court record of Grundy county will show, and therefore believe Mr. Staub will see no cause for further delay in effecting a settlement with Mr. Stones, by which the Swiss can secure a good title to their hard-carned homes. Mr. Stones does not desire to eject the colony, but simply wishes a fair compensation for his property, as he has often informed me. Very respectfully, E. H. PLUMACHER.

fember of the Board of Immigration of the State of Western Wholesale Drug Association. St. Louis, November 16.—The Western wholesale drug association had a called meeting here yesterday, at which business of interest only to members was transacted. The attendance was not large. WAR! WAR! 10,000 VOLUNTEERS WANTED!

Rebellion! Rebellion!

Awake, fellow-citizens of Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas! To arms! Gallant men, I will lead you. You have been ground into the dust. You have been trampled upon. You have been almost ruined—in pocket, and by high prices. Follow me, and I shall lead you to victory and fortune. Rally round me in serried ranks, and I stake my reputation it that I shall carry our standard into the midst of the enemy's camp. Down with monopolies and extortionate prices! on your armor-Harry Cohn's fine clothing. Raise high your arms, and Harry Cohn will put them into the best and cheapest coats you ever bought. Up with your legs and into pair of pants to match the coat. Harry Cohn is the general of the clothing trade. Come one and all. Harry Cohn will treat you well, save money for you, and send you homeh happy and contented. No house sells clothing and furnishing goods as cheap as he does.
